DESPERATE CONTEST.

Armenians and Persians Engage in a Fight.

Stopped on the Way to Pore to Ask Redress of Grievances.

About Sixty Turks and Armenians were Killed in Conflict.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. Secretary Osgood this afternoon received this despatch from Minister Terrell from Constantinople:

Monday several hundred Armenians marched on the Pore to protest against the treatment of the Armenians. Pore tried to prevent it. A conflict occurred between the Armenians and the police. Probably about 60 Turks and Armenians were killed, among other a Turkish man. Many wounded Armenians carried pitchforks and clubs, and were killed, and last night 600 were killed and several hundred imprisoned. The Pore had notice of the demonstration, which it is said was organized by the leaders of the Hunchak revolutionists, who are here, but he did not know for certain. I think the Pore will be able to restrain fanaticism.

(Signed) TERRELL.

WASHINGTON NEWS.*CEN. MAHON NO: IMPROVED.

WITNESS PAINTED.

A Scene in the Court Room at Plymouth. BOSTON, Oct. 2. The trial of Arthur A. Albee, charged with the murder of Collis A. Lissman, of Brockton, in 1892, was concluded in the superior court this morning. Nellie Moffit testified that she was married to Albee naked. She was not at one time married to a brother of Albee, the defendant, and she replied that she could not remember. Mrs. Minnie A. Albee testified that she was married to the defendant eighteen years ago, and that he had been a good man, but had left her, and she had not lived with him or seen him for fourteen years. At this point the witness faltered and was removed from the court room.

GOING EAST.

The contests of last week between the Fall River and Springfield teams are criterion—and this should surely be the case—the fact has been established beyond a doubt that the New England league is just as fast as the Eastern.

McDermott's aggregation were winners in three of the four games, played with the much lauded pennant takers of the eastern class.

McCarthy announces that he has played his last game of ball forever. He has been a brilliant tosser and is now just in his prime. Tom gained his reputation when with the Brooktons in '88.

Killer will be the only one of the Portlands to pass the winter in that city.

Jack Leighton's improvement is so rapid that it is center-fielder will be able to take up his bat and walk in a few days.

Now is the season of the year when rumors of exchange of players are rife.

Among the trossers in the New England league this year were several who scribbled their names to contracts on the condition that the reserve clause

should be stricken out, so that when

'96 came around they might be free to join whatever company best suited them. In Portland they had Capt. Slane and

Henry Kilian, Lewiston had Brady;

Fall River, Joe Harrington and it is said

Klobodan.

There is a rumor that McCormick will be with the Lewistons another season.

It is probably the same old rumor with whiskers on it.

The September "Surplus."

Now that the Treasury Department has manufactured an apparent surplus for the month of September amounting to $4,175,000, it may be interesting to throw a side-light on this performance in order that the people may fully understand the farce now being enacted. In the first place, there is included in the "Treasury balance" the $5,000,000 appropriated by Congress as a bounty to the sugar producers, and held up by the turgid Bowles as unconstitutional, acting under the direction of the President, who realizes that he has succeeded in getting the Government into a financial condition where it is necessary to take desperate chances. The only item held up by the Administration is in direct conflict with the acts of Congress, and in connection with which the Democratic manipulators will doubtless be overhanded during the coming session, more than wiped out the surplus.

It will be seen that, in reality instead of a surplus of $4,175,000, the expenditures provided by Congress been the deficit, even taking the "Democrat" into account, to be $2,000,000. But the manipulation of the receipts and expenditures of the Government show a remarkable condition of affairs. The average receipts, according to Washington's dispatches, for the first twenty days of the month were about $9,000,000, and for the last ten days about $87,000. The total expenditures in the first twenty days of the month amounted to $30,257,000, or an average of $1,512,850 a day, and the total expenditures in the last ten days of the month amounted to $30,175,500, or an average of $1,017,500 a day. Inasmuch as the average daily receipts for the last ten days were only $1,000 less than the average for the entire month, and only $2,000 less than the daily average for the first twenty days, it may seem strange to persons who are not familiar with the shifts to which the Treasury resorts every month under this Administration that the average of daily expenditure for the last ten days of the month should have fallen about $80,000 below the daily average, for the entire month, and $800,000 below the daily average for the first twenty days.

It is true that the revenue have increased somewhat, but the increase has been far large enough or steady enough to justify any great amount of expenditure. The "excessive" receipts in September amounted to about $60,000 more than the monthly average of the previous eight months, but the September receipts from that source ($14,634,157) were smaller by $2,700,000 than those of January, about $2,000,000 less than those of March, and $2,000,000 less than those of August, while they exceeded the receipts of July by about $600,000. The total receipts in September amounted to $1,000 less than in August, $1,000,000 less than in July, and about $2,000 less than in January. Of course there will be a heavy deficit in October, but it also in November, despite the desperate attempts to make the balance as favorable and also as deceptive as possible. Treasury officials readily say that the October expenditures will largely exceed the receipts of the month, and one of them ventures the opinion that the October deficit would reach $1,000,000.

The Portion Hope.

The Massachusetts Democrats got together Wednesday and nominated Fred Williams as their candidate for Governor. The very action of the convention, with its confession of the cause which it did, Fred has been selected to lead.

If the Democrats had entered the contest, it is evident that they would have selected a different candidate.

It was simply a question of putting up a figure to be sacrificed. Fred would do as well as any one and so the nomination was given to him without opposition.

It is a touching picture the candidate for the convention when he announced that he had been thinking night and day how to bring relief to the Commonwealth. We would suggest that he go to bed and take a good long nap.

The relief is already on the way as far as the Commonwealth is concerned and that must be quite a relief for the great relief to the country.

It is a year from this fall when the relief to which he is now accorded will be turned down. Massachusetts will then be in a position to deal with the Democratic and other opportunity odds in the next month.

Outrage Upon Free Suffrage.

Two of the negro delegates to the tenth Constitutional Convention, which proposes to disfranchise the negroes, have joined in the following address to the North:

The seventh Constitutional Convention of South Carolina is in session. It is being held for the purpose of dealing with the negro problem, and those who have advocated its assumption have been explicit in their declaration of the purpose to be accomplished—the disfranchisement of the negro and the disfranchisement of him, and from a participation in elections, and from a participation in the government, and from control of the negro uniting with the conservative and moderate and the out and out of the power now in control of the Government. The chief obstacle in the way of accomplishing what is desired is the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Federal Constitution, which are still in effect.

The Hon. Benjamin Ryan Tillman, who is the head and front of the movement, has not been at all political or hypocritical as far as the negro is concerned, and his object is to disfranchise as many negroes as he possibly can without disfranchising a single white man except for crime.

In the fall, according to the census of the United States, taken in 1890, there were: Negroes over twenty-one years of age, 132,010; whites over twenty-one years of age, 102,367; negroes, minority, 100,000; whites, minority, 100,000; negroes and whites, 132,010; negroes and whites, 100,000; negroes, 32,010; whites, 32,000. It will be plainly seen that a party whose qualification, honestly administered, would give the whites 80,415 and the negroes 47,851 votes; while majority, 14,634 votes.

But the nut for Tillman to crack is how he can disfranchise the negro, without disfranchising the 12,342 illiterate negroes, who would be lost entirely to his faction and who are the sole element nominate and vote as an independent ticket. The highest yet, his faction has ever been able to poll in round numbers, is 50,000, and the Conservative, 47,851. In Tillman's faction, therefore, should lose 12,342 votes, it would have only 68,476 votes, and the Conservatives 35,000 votes, and Tillman's majority over the Conservatives.

It will really be seen that the 34,631 negro votes or any considerable part of them uniting with the Conservatives would make that faction master of the state, and that is what Tillman, it is to prove. But for this type, it would be the whites of both sections, the scarecrow "white supremacy," which he has shaken in their faces, on every occasion, and which he is shrewdly known to have the same effect upon the negro as the red dog has upon an enraged bull.

The real truth is that "white supremacy" has never been endangered; for even in the days of Republican ascendancy all the great offices, and a large majority of all the offices, were held by white men, and one thousandth part of it is a negro office. The average Negro, as we have been informed, as agreed upon by the committee, is as follows: Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, who has been convicted of error, or is not a soldier, or an officer, or a prisoner of a charitable institution, who can read a section of the Constitution to the satisfaction of the officers of election, or who can extract and section when read by the election officers, or who has paid his taxes on $500 worth of real property; or who can satisfy the election officers that he has paid his taxes on $500 worth of real property, shall be entitled to vote.

Every one of these provisions is as simple and just as they appear, when read by the uninitiated are freighted with subtle and intricate provisions, which are the sole judges of the qualification of the elector, and can at their will make the negro vote a white vote as large or as small as they please.

As Mr. Crandall has explained in his description of the original bill, the colored man will have the right to vote in South Carolina, as the Supreme Court of the State has decided that there is no appeal to any court of law from the acts of election officers. In other words, the colored man has been permitted to vote in the election franchise which have been perpetrated upon the elective franchise in this State since 1876.

No one can tell or estimate what the vote will be, and that question will be answered only by the election officers.

BREWER LOCALS.

Mrs. S. L. Lovoy of Castine, has been visiting friends in Dedham. Hon. W. L. Johnson, of Buckley, Ill., has been visiting with relatives in this vicinity. 1

Mrs. Annie Gerry returned home from Boston on the steamer City of Bangor yesterday.

Mrs. Cox, of Hallowell, N. S., is visiting with her brother, Mr. G. W. Marsh, in East Eddington.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council will be held this evening at the city building.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Black, of Dedham, have been visiting with friends in Blue Hill for a short time.

Mrs. Carrie Oakes, who, after visiting to a time in this city, went to Garland for a visit, has returned from there.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Littlefield, of Rockport Harbor, were in the city yesterday to attend the Sprout-Merrill wedding.

Mrs. Wyman, of Foxcroft, is in the city for a few days, coming to attend the Sprout-Merrill wedding yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Lucy and Hattie Merrill of East Eddington, have returned to school for the fall term, the former to Wellesley College and the latter to Tufts.

Mrs. Edward Capen, of Dedham Mass., who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stow at South Brewer, returned home on the steamer Penobscot yesterday.

Several large new boats have been built during the past few weeks at the boat shop of H. J. and S. J. each at the ferry for various vessels that have been in port.

Mrs. Nancy B. Teg, of East Bucksport, has moved to this city and has leased an occupancy part of the house at the end of Center street, owned by the Brewer Savings Bank.

The little's bazaar at the Catholic church, on South Brewer, began last evening and the opening was very auspicious.

There are a great variety of fancy articles on sale and refreshments are served, and last evening the attendance was large and the patronage liberal. A blue entremet was given and much enjoyed. The bazaar is to continue three more nights and will undoubtedly be very successful. Extra cars are run to accommodate the people attending.

A Happy Wedding Event in Brewer Wednesday Afternoon.

A very pretty home wedding occurred at Brewer Wednesday afternoon, the interesting event being the marriage of Mr. Wilmer Warren Sprout of Bangor, and Miss Blanche Woodbury Merrill of this city. The happy event took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bushell Merrill on State street, and there were invited a large number of the relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom in this city, Bangor and elsewhere. The interior of the house had been very prettily decorated for the occasion and presented a most attractive appearance.

The ceremony occurred at five o'clock and was performed in a happy manner by Rev. B. R. Merrill, pastor of the First Congregational Church. Mr. Bushell Merrill, brother of the bride was the best man, and Miss Josephine Cook was the maid-of-honor.

At 6 P.M. the bride and groom left to Jefferson Falls, and the bride's mother, Mrs. Bushell, accompanied them to the steamer Whitefield at Brewer.
